Shakedown Cruise on DeGray Reservoir; Lawrence Welk Note

It was to have been a nice week-end, the Weather Man said; but not for this particular party of fishermen, as it turned out.

Saturday morning Gene Allen, Capt. Bob Peterson and your editor set out for DeGray Reservoir to make a shakedown cruise in the editor's boat and do some fishing.

On Gene's advice we tried a remote section on the western shore, launching at the Brushy Creek ramp. Seldom does a fisherman tell you exactly how to get to a selected spot, but since we didn't do any good I might as well let you have the facts.

You turn off Interstate 30 near Arkadelphia and take State 8, which is the road to Alpine and Amity. After a pretty good run up No. 8 you encounter the Freeman Fina service station on the left, and two miles from that point a gravel road goes off to the right. It's State 347, but unmarked, I believe.

It's a fine gravel stretch all the way. You meet the first crossroads and go straight through. A second crossroads appears and you turn right to get to Brushy Creek ramp. You can't miss at this second crossroads because by this time you can see the lake on two sides.

We had a little trouble at the ramp because there was a heavy overcast and the wind was blowing out of the west directly against us as we launched westward. But we got clear and immediately found ourselves in a landlocked bay. We tried all the wrong channels until we finally discovered the one that led southward into the open lake.

A brief run at high speed immedialy told us we had pump trouble in the big engine. It gave off some steam, indicating an arm or two was missing from the rubber impeller in the pump. But after letting the engine cool we found we could proceed slowly from one fishing spot to another.

Not that it did us much good. Gene caught three or four bass and crappie but no keepers. Bob Peterson settled for a couple of bites, and your editor drew a complete blank.

But it's good to get outdoors in the Spring, and Brushy Creek ramp is probably one of the most isolated places in Arkansas. Except for two other parties at the ramp we saw no one in the forest we traveled through.

And we found out what a shakedown cruise is for—some more work on the engine is needed.

Editor The Star: The last two paragraphs of your letter in Monday's Star (March 6) expressed my feelings also.

Seeing so many young people out to hear the Lawrence Welk show says something for the younger generation of today. And so many people turning out for the cleanest show on the air and stage goes to show that all of America isn't bad.

Mr. and Mrs. Agee Gilbert and I were there and enjoyed every minute. Just wish there were more Lawrence Welks in America today.

Tell Mr. Rogers his pictures were real good.

Antipollution Cost May Close Many Factories

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government study says the cost of antipollution efforts will close hundreds of factories, put thousands out of work, push prices and imports up and force the nation's production down.

Walter Hamilton, a deputy assistant secretary of commerce and chairman of an industry advisory committee, said, however, that industrial executives found the report's projections "less bad than they feared."

The report, released Sunday, is the first comprehensive government attempt to assess the economic impact of antipollution efforts.

It was issued by the Environmental Protection Agency, the President's Council on Environmental Quality and the Commerce Department. Eleven private consulting firms furnished the agencies with information for the report.

The study said large corporations are in the best position to survive the antipollution costs and take over the markets lost by the smaller firms that go under.

The report's authors acknowledged they had no idea whether their estimates are too high or too low because the estimates are surrounded by so many unresolved questions.

The study doesn't evaluate the benefits from cleaner air and water.

Of the 12,000 plants in the categories studied, the report said, 200 to 300 would be forced to close by antipollution requirements, but many will shut down in a few years anyway.

The report indicated 50,000 to 125,000 jobs may be eliminated, but many of the workers could find other employment.

IT'S OFF TO WORK they go when the snow falls in Peking. A "snow brigade" with brooms at the ready, above, turns out to achieve the result below—streets as clear as most in the West, where machines do the job. The efficient human-power snow-removal system impressed newsmen accompanying President Nixon to China.

Says Democrats Are Conspiring With Columnist

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two heart specialists who examined Dita Beard at the request of the Senate Judiciary Committee say the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. lobbyist will be well enough to testify in a day or two but shouldn't leave her hospital bed.

The committee wants to question Mrs. Beard about a memorandum attributed to her that links the settlement of a Justice Department antitrust suit against ITT to the firm's pledge of $400,000 to the Republican National Convention.

Mrs. Beard, 53, has been in a Denver hospital, reportedly suffering from a heart condition, since the committee took up the ITT case at the request of Richard G. Kleindienst, whom President Nixon has nominated to succeed John N. Mitchell as head of the Justice Department.

The two unidentified specialists agreed with her two doctors that she was in no condition to travel to Washington to testify but that she would be able to give testimony to committee members from her hospital bed.

The committee resumes the hearings Tuesday with testimony from Mitchell.

Meanwhile, Republican Sen. Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky accused two of his Democratic colleagues of conspiring with columnist Jack Anderson to discredit government officials "despite the absence of wrongdoing of any kind."

Cook, in a letter asking Committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., to call a closed meeting to consider the accusation, said the hearing record compelled him to conclude that Sens. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Birch Bayh of Indiana were involved in a "political conspiracy" with Anderson.

Cook said Brit Hume, an associate of Anderson, gave notes about the case to Kennedy, and the senator didn't make the notes available to the committee or inform members he had them.

"The giving of notes and other documents to a member of a senatorial committee which is investigating the very subject matter contained in those notes is a serious affront to the committee process bordering on contempt," Cook said.

Kennedy, in response to Cook's accusation, said: "I hope that each member of the committee has instructed his

Marshal Lon Nol Seizes Cambodia

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Marshal Lon Nol proclaimed himself president of Cambodia today with absolute powers following a weekend of political upheaval to beat back the threat of parliamentary democracy to his rule.

"From this day forward the Khmer chief of state will have the title of president of the Khmer Republic," the semi-paralyzed leader said in a broadcast to the nation at noon. Lon Nol, who had been premier, named himself chief of state on Friday.

He said he would also be president of the council of ministers—the cabinet—but would name a vice president and a premier to assist him. He did not announce his choices for these posts, which apparently are made necessary by the marshal's infirmities since he suffered a stroke last year. The government has been run since then by Deputy Premier Sisowath Sirik Matak, Lon Nol's asshakeup was in the works, and on Friday Chief of State Cheng Heng announced that he was resigning his largely ceremonial post and transferring it to Lon Nol.

The premier accepted the office and at once suspended the Constituent Assembly, which was hours away from completing a new constitution. It would have transformed the Constituent Assembly into a National Assembly and made the president and premier responsible to it.

Lon Nol said such a formula would have created "disorder throughout the country."

Dollar Continues Modest Rally

LONDON (AP) — The dollar continued a modest rally on European foreign exchanges today.

In generally calm conditions the dollar firmed slightly in early trading in London, Frankfurt, Zurich and Paris. But it fell in Madrid to a new low of 64.41 Spanish pesetas, down from Friday's 65.86.

The dollar took a battering last week in Europe. Analysts blamed this on rumors that new currency control measures were being planned by the European Common Market. There was a mood to "get out of dollars."

Central bankers met in Basel, Switzerland, on Sunday and emerged expressing confidence in the situation.

London traders had expected the dollar to rally as a reaction to higher interest rates announced Friday by the First National City Bank of New York.

Comparatively low interest rates in the United States and high ones in Europe have attracted dollars to the continent, and weakened their value on foreign exchanges.

The agreement calls for narrowing the range of fluctuation in money rates of Common Market countries. Some speculators reportedly saw this as weakening the dollar, and last week unloaded their dollar holdings. Now they are reinterpreting the agreement as strengthening the dollar, and this has eased pressure, informed sources said.

Irving, Wife to Enter Pleas

NEW YORK (AP) — Clifford and Edith Irving pleaded guilty through lawyers today to federal charges of conspiring to defraud a publisher with a fake autobiography of Howard Hughes.

The New York Daily News reported today that it had learned the three were expected to plead guilty to avoid an expensive and drawn-out jury trial.

They were indicted last Thursday on a variety of criminal charges after federal and county grand juries spent six weeks in a joint investigation of the making of a 230,000-word manuscript that duped two major publishers.

First the Irvings go to federal court to answer an indictment charging Clifford, 41, and Edith, 36, with conspiracy and mail fraud. Suskind, 46, is named as a coconspirator but not as a defendant in the federal indictment.

Then all three appear in State Supreme Court to answer a New York County indictment charging them with grand larceny, conspiracy and possession of forged instruments. A second county indictment charges Irving and Suskind with perjury.

In addition, Mrs. Irving still faces Swiss charges of forgery, counterfeiting and embezzlement in connection with her handling of three checks totaling $650,000 that McGraw-Hill, Inc., intended for the 66-year-old Hughes.

It was exactly 14 weeks ago today that McGraw-Hill startled the publishing world with the announcement that it had acquired the autobiography of the elusive Hughes, who has not been seen in public in 10 years. Life magazine was to publish excerpts.

The work was immediately denounced by the Hughes Tool Co., but Irving swore in a court affidavit that he had met Hughes secretly in motels and automobiles in places ranging from Oaxaca, Mexico, to Pompano Beach, Fla.

On Jan. 8, a voice identified as that of Hughes denounced the book as a fraud, and detail by detail, the authenticity of the manuscript came more and more into question as investigators probed Irving's story.

Fears Collapse of Monetary System

WASHINGTON (AP — President Nixon's chief economic adviser says fears that the new international monetary settlement will collapse are unjustified and foreign countries must learn to accept the facts of life.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, was asked in an interview how the United States could calm fears about the settlement and also enjoy economic recovery at home.

Stein replied that his contacts with official representatives of foreign governments "lead me to think that these fears are not shared by them, are not shared by people who are more in touch with economic as distinguished from private finance."

He said that as he has discussed U.S. economic policies in foreign government circles, "first they would recognize that the expansion of our economy is of greatest importance to them. They'd much rather have us expand than anything else."

The chairman added that foreign governments wish U.S. interest rates would go up a little as the economy improves.

He said interest rates overseas are coming down somewhat so that the spread is narrowing between interest rates in the United States and abroad. One reason for the dollar crisis of last year was a sharp difference in interest rates. High rates in Europe pulled dollars overseas.

U.S. Favors Dropping Travel Restrictions to North Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — High-level U.S. diplomats say they favor dropping travel restrictions to North Korea, but view the time of such a move as highly important.

According to the diplomats, there is no point in keeping the restrictions, which the Superme Court refuses to uphold. Doctors, scholars, journalists and scientists can get validations now, but North Korea controls who is allowed in the country.

Secreatry of Sate William P. Rogers must decide by next Wednesday whether to continue the travel bans to North Korea, North Vietnam, Cuba and Albania for another six months.

China, which once led the restricted list, has not been banned since mid-March 1971, and it was shortly thereafter that the American table-tennis team was invited to visit.

State Department officials acknowledge lifting travel restrictions for North Korea would be taken as a sign that the United States is moving toward diplomatic recognition.

South Korean Ambassador Kim Dong-jo says his government is strongly opposed to any such travel relaxation.

Rogers told a news conference last week that there are other indications besides non-government signals that North Korea wants to improve relations with South Korea and possibly the United States.

But Rogers said the United States would not want to act until talking the matter over very carefully with South Korea.

American officials say that nothing came up in the Peking talks on Korea.

But Rogers said there have been a number of indications of a North Korean desire to improve relations.

Try to Show Integration Boosts Minority Pupils

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Arguing in support of a 1970 desegregation order for the Los Angeles school system, the nation's second largest, civil rights lawyers have tried to show that desegregation boosts the academic achievement of minority pupils.

American Civil Liberties Union lawyer have submitted a 113-page study on research on school integration to the state Court of Appeal in an attempt to rebut challenges to trial evidence by city school attorneys.

The study concludes that "the single most important educational resource that schools can offer their pupils is the other pupils in the school" and that there is a positive link between integration and school achievement.

Studies of integration at Berkeley, Calif., Boston, Pittsburgh, Rochester, N.Y., Hartford, Conn., and Evanston, Ill., provided supplementary "evidence for the salutary effects of school socioeconomic and racial ethnic integration on the achievement, attitudes and life chances of minority pupils ..." the report said.

In 1970, Judge Alfred Gitelson ruled that the Los Angeles District must racially balance all of its schools. The district with about 660,000 pupils, is second in size to New York City's school system.

School lawyers are appealing the decision. Several months ago they submitted studies designed to show that the district has done everything feasible to prevent segregation and that integration probably would have few positive effects on the system.

Rules Marijuana Sales No Felony

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court held today that under Act 590 of 1971 the sale of Marijuana was a misdemeanor, not a felony.

The legislature this year amended the measure, called the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, to resolve confusion about its penalty provisions and made sale of marijuana a felony.

In Circuit Courts in Pulaski County, which originated the case on which the Supreme Court ruled, some judges had held that the crime was a misdemeanor and others held it to be a felony.

Paul Stephen Bennett of Little Rock was charged by felony information with sale of marijuana. He was convicted and sentenced by Circuit Court Judge William J. Kirby to one year in prison, a felony sentence.

Bennett's appeal to the Supreme Court contended that the crime of which he was accused was a misdemeanor. As such, he said, any sentence imposed on him should not provide for imprisonment in the state penitenairy, the Supreme Court agreed.

On another point, the court also agreed that the identity of a police informer should have been made known to the defense so it could better prepare to argue Bennett's case at the trial.

The Supreme Court said that for 102 years the definition of a felony has been set out in Arkansas law as those which may be punished by death or confinement "in the penitentiary."

The penalty clause of the 1971 act said that punishment for sale of marijuana could be a fine ranging up to $25,000 or imprisonment for up to 15 years, or both.

However, the clause did not say that imprisonment would be in the state penitentiary. Therefore, the court said, the crime itself was a misdemeanor.

The amendment approved by the legislature in February added the word "felony" and increased the penalty to up to 30 years in prison.

On the issue of the informer, the court held that when an informant is an actual witness to an alleged crime, his testimony could be sought by the defense to contradict testimony of witnesses for the state and, therefore, his identity should be made known to the defense.

An informant who supplied only a "lead" to law enforcement officers, but did not participate in any transaction surrounding the alleged crime, would be a different matter, the court said.

Scots Greet Armstrong

LANGHOLM, Scotland (AP) — Neil Armstrong, the first man to walk on the moon, was greeted by several thousand people when he arrived at this tartan town in the Scottish lowlands.

Langholm is the ancestral home of the Armstrongs. Armstrongs from all over Britain journeyed to the usually quiet town to cheer the moonwalker when he was made Langholm's first honorary freeman. That is the same as receiving a key to an American city.

After the freeman ceremony Saturday, as he was surrounded by smiling townspeople, Armstrong said: "Thank you. I feel like I've come home."

Armstrong, now on the faculty of the University of Cincinnati, was first invited to Langholm by the town council after he made the first walk on the moon July 21, 1969.

A Young Mother Is Killed in Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A terrorist's bullet killed a 24-year-old mother Sunday night, shattering a guerrilla cease-fire and marring bloodstained Belfast's first peaceful weekend for more than a year.

Bernadette Hyndman was cut down on the doorstep of her home in a Catholic section when gunman fired a volley of rifle shots at a British army patrol.

"She stopped a bullet meant for a soldier standing only a few feet away," an army spokesman said. "Our men did not fire at all."

Mrs. Hyndman was the 268th fatality in Northern Ireland's bloody war.

She was shot during a three-day truce called by the Irish Republican Army's nationalist Provisional wing.

The cease-fire—due to run out at midnight tonight, is not being observed by the rival Marxist "Official" wing of the IRA.

The truce had transformed Belfast until Mrs. Hyndman was shot. The center of the city, normally shunned because of the IRA's recent bombing of public places, was thronged with thousands.

IRA leaders ordered the cease-fire in anticipation of the British government's long-expected political proposals designed to meet some of the demands of Northern Ireland's Catholic minority. But reports in London indicated Prime Minister Edward Heath's cabinet was still badly split.

Questions Tax Issue

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Arizona Court of Appeals has been asked to decide whether the Church of Jesus Christ of Later-day Saints (Mormon) should be allowed to compete in the Phoenix-area milk and crop markets without paying property taxes.

Phoenix Assessor Kenneth Kunes declared 1,500 acres of farmland owned by the church non exempt in 1969. The church paid about $21,000 in taxes under protest, but later won a Superior Court lawsuit to have the money refunded.

The church contends the property is exempt under the Arizona Constitution which provides that "property of educational, charitable and religious associations or institutions not used or held for probit may be exempt from taxation by law."

Max Tackett Succumbs

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Max Andrew Tackett, 59, former police chief of Texarkana, died Sunday night in a hospital here.

He had suffered a heart attack about one month ago and had been hospitalized since then.

Tackett, a colorful, outspoken and sometimes controversial figure, was police chief from 1948 to 1968, when he retired.

He had been a member of the Arkansas State Police before becoming police chief. In 1951 he was head of the Arkansas Peace Officers Association.

After retirement he was director of the Neighborhood Development program in Texarkana for most of 1971.

In 1946, while with the State Police, he was critically wounded in a shootout near Fulton.

He was a native of Glenwood.

Funeral will be Wednesday.

Pleased Over Meat Import Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Grumblings in public to the contrary, cattle-producer spokesmen and major foreign suppliers reportedly are pleased over the Nixon administration's announcement last week that meat imports this year will be boosted seven per cent from the level permitted in 1971.

C. W. McMillan, executive vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Association, criticized the boost on grounds it could lead to further expansion of meat imports in the future.

However, government sources say NCA leadership generally was relieved that the 1972 quota increase was no larger.

Moreover, although some importers had wanted at least a 15-per-cent hike, one source close to the Australian meat trade said "we're delighted" over the 7-per-cent increase.

Australia received an allocation this year of more than 600 million pounds of the total quota of 1.24 billion, up 40 million from the original "voluntary restraint" level for 1971.

Last year, however, Australia was able to supply only 530 million pounds of its original share of 560 million. Together, Australia and New Zealand furnish about 70 per cent of the quota-type meat.

But the meat-import question is far from dead. Consumer groups, wanting unlimited beef from foreign countries, are gearing up on Capitol Hill for another push and some urban members of Congress are leading the way.

Rep. Fernand J. St Germain, D-R.I., asked President Nixon in February to lift all meat quotas this year to help keep supermarket prices down.

Following last week's announcement of a 7-per-cent boost in the allowed level, St Germain said the increase was a help but still not enough.

"The government cannot—must not—put itself in the position of telling consumers, especially those of lower income, that the only answer to high meat prices is to stop eating meat," St Germain said in a statement.

"I commend the President for his action in raising meat-import quotas," he said, "but I most sincerely deplore that activities of a small group of ranchers and feedlot owners which would place its own interests above those of the entire consuming public."

More stirring of the import situation is expected Thursday and Friday this week when Rep. Benjamin Rosenthal, D-N.Y., opens a hearing on meat prices.

A Rosenthal aide said one objective will be to unravel the methods used to set annual import quotas which, he said, are "shrouded in secrecy" by government officials.

More Bomb Threats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bomb threats telephoned to National Airlines offices in New York and Los Angeles and to Texas International Airlines in Albuquerque forced searches and led to some delays in service Sunday. No bombs were found.

A National Airlines DC8 flying from Los Angeles to Miami was searched during scheduled stopovers in Houston and New Orleans, delaying its arrival in Miami by about an hour.

"Some kook called us soon after Flight 86 took off at noon (Sunday) and said there was a bomb on the plane and hung up," a National spokesman said in Los Angeles.

The caller to Texas International Airlines told officials that a bomb was planted aboard an airplane destined for Salt Lake City. He did not say which airline was involved.

The officials said four planes heading for Salt Lake were diverted and three others, all belonging to Western Airlines, were searched on the ground. As in the other cases no explosive was found.

Burglars Are Perplexed

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Sheriff's police are perplexed by the motives of burglars who broke into a rural Decatur home sometime over the weekend.

Police said the burglars who entered Harold Catlin's house took only a toilet bowl valued at $50 and a $1.50 light bulb while neglecting $140 in cash lying on a nearby table.

Oswald: "Here is a hand I watched the other day. The bidding is interesting indeed."

Jim: "I see West preempted first and then bid again to push his opponents into a slam. I see that East let South play the hand there after West gave the final push."

Oswald: "I can't really blame either of them. West knew that trumps weren't going to break. East was sure that South would have plenty of trouble with the minor suits."

Jim: "I see that the slam can be beaten. All West has to do is open either singleton. South will have to try to ruff a spade and if East wins the first spade with his queen he will be able to give his partner a ruff. Did that happen?"

Oswald: "No. West opened the king of spades. Then he shifted to a trump. East showed out, South came to the right conclusion and played the hand out with perfect technique to bring home the slam on a squeeze."

Jim: "I'll go over it. He won in his own hand; ruffed a spade; played three more rounds of trumps while discarding a diamond and club from dummy. Then he played ace and king of clubs and ruffed a club. Then he led out his last trump and discarded another diamond from dummy. East had to unguard his queen of diamonds and South's deuce of diamonds won the twelfth trick."

Turman Police Chief Is Very Popular

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

TRUMAN, Ark. (AP) — The most popular talk show host in this northeast Arkansas town is Police Chief Charles Meredith.

Armed with a microphone, Meredith takes to the air each Saturday morning in an attempt to narrow the generation gap.

"We were concerned about a lack of communication between our young people and the police and just set out to do something about it," Meredith said. "I figure in the long run it makes our job easier."

"The show has worked real good," says Jerry Lumpkin, station manager for KTMN. "A lot of people have called and expressed great appreciation for the show.

"The show has given the young people a meeting ground," Lumpkin said. "They realize that he is a member of the establishment, but they recognize he is a person they can talk to."

The show, called "Bridging The Gap," is done live and Meredith credits the "free-wheeling" format for much of the success.

"We want things to be discussed openly and honestly," he said.

Lumpkin sets the tone of the show, which began less than two months ago, when he introduces Meredith as the "keeper of the key."

Subjects have ranged from Alcoholism and drug abuse to garbage pickup to the cost of a new patrol car.

Normally, Meredith, 36, will have one guest and a couple of teen-agers. Among the guests during the two-month run have been law enforcement officials and political candidates. Meredith says he has been contacted by a former alcoholic who wants to appear on the show. Besides chatting with the guests, Meredith sometimes answers questions phoned in by listeners.

"Part of the program is to offer any youngster who has problems a chance to appear on the program," Lumpkin said. "Regardless of what they want to talk about, he'll listen."

SKINS REPLACED

LONDON (AP) — British army bandsmen are to lose their tiger and leopard skins — to support wildlife and save money. In the future, drummers in the army's 75 bands will wear nylon fabricated copies of the skin aprons.

"If we go on using skins for another 20 years there'll be no tigers or leopards left," a military spokesman said.

Helen Bottel — Helen Help Us!

TO TELL THE TRUTH

Dear Helen:

Are lies justified sometimes? I think so.

My aunt stopped my nailbiting by telling me the nail bits that I couldn't help but swallow would join together in my stomach and "chew" a hole in my intestines. I had visions of a horrible death, so I was literally scared into breaking a bad habit.

By the time I learned this couldn't possibly happen, I no longer felt the urge to chew my nails.

When our children were very young, we lived near a river that had great fascination for them. I told them there was a big wolf down there who would eat them up if they didn't have a grown person along to protect them. Result: we never worried about drowned kids.

Now that our children are grown, they tell me I was totally wrong, and they would never resort to lies in raising a family. But I notice their children get in a lot more trouble than they did, when (in the olden days) parents weren't so committed to truth.

Comments please? — ALTRUISTRIC LIAR, SOMETIMES

Dear ALS:

The trouble with "justifiable" lies is: while they may accomplish their immediate purpose, they can also build distrust in children.

Your youngsters swallowed the "wolf" story. But how many times later on did they privately question your truthfulness? Perhaps that's why they're raising their families differently: They REMEMBER! — H.

Dear Helen:

I've had a hell of a time convincing Sheila that marriage is a good idea. She's for careers and travel—and love, maybe, but not "till death do us part."

Well, I thought I'd got over that hurdle with a mutual agreement that we'd be free, though married, and her career in publishing would be as important as mine in advertising.

However, I assumed that children (sometime) would be part of the package. I figured two modern adults could manage a family, plus equal careers; but last night she accused me of trying to lure her into the suburban trap and announced she never planned to have a baby!

What's with modern women? Liberation is great, but with so many of our brainiest females refusing motherhood, where does this leave future generations? In the hands of people who may have inherited second-class intelligence?

I'm not stupid enough to ask "Should I marry the gal?" This is my own decision, and I've made it: we'll stay with an affair, as she wanted in the first place. My question is: If man can swing a career, assume the responsibilities of home and child-raising, why then do women suddenly think they must forego motherhood if they opt for careers? —SOMETIME FATHER

Dear S.F.:

Perhaps your girl is wise enough to know her limitations. All women shouldn't be mothers: if non-maternal types choose against babies, they may have saved themselves (and the children) a good deal of pain. (They should also choose men who aren't sold on fatherhood.)

But don't judge most females by the "total freedom" women. Give these girls credit for honesty, and then look around for someone who shares your views.

It's really not that difficult, combining a career with marriage and a family, says this columnist who has happily traveled the course. May you soon find a wife who agrees with me. —H.

Simple Walking Still Best

What Strengthens the Heart

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I have wondered if there are any kinds of activity that those with heart conditions should especially avoid. My husband is most anxious to do what is best and not overdo, but he probably doesn't do enough. I think he can't quite realize that exercise of the right kind strengthens, not weakens, the heart. I believe a column of general advice for people with a heart condition would be of help to many, if such advice can be given when there are so many kinds of this trouble.

Dear Reader—Thank you for your thoughtful suggestion.

For individuals who do not have any symptoms of heart disease, specifically no evidence of shortness of breath or chest pain, I think the best exercise in the world is enough simple walking. It doesn't need to be very fast. It can gradually be increased in speed, if one desires to do so, or in duration to a level entirely consistent with the individual's own health. A comfortable walk of from 10 to 15 minutes is usually within the scope of most people's physical ability unless they already have symptoms of heart disease. Then the duration can be increased to 30 minutes, then 30 minutes twice a day.

While many people can walk an hour without difficulty, there are a surprising number who cannot. So it is not a goal one should hope to achieve when he first starts walking. If a person has any evidence of chest pain or shortness of breath or just feels too tired, he should stop walking and rest.

Any person who has symptoms while doing ordinary walking shouldn't try to do any more of an exercise program without a complete evaluation by their doctor.

I do not approve of vigorous exercise for individuals who have not already demonstrated adequate walking capacity. For older people or those who already have diagnosed heart disease, I am not very enthusiastic about maximum physical exercise of any type. Good walking exercise will build up your heart and circulation. In younger people without evidence of serious heart disease, after they have demonstrated their walking capacity and maintained it for several weeks, more vigorous exercise such as jogging and other exercises can be considered.

Many people already exceed these levels of exercise regularly and do so comfortably. For those I suggest that they continue to do so, only avoid peak exertion or unusual exertion. It is better to exercise a little bit below your maximum capacity and do it more often, than it is to overdo it just one time. Exercise causes the heart to increase its work. The heart is essentially a muscle and like any other muscle that is worked it builds up its strength. Doctors also think that appropriate forms of exercise increase the blood supply to the heart muscle just as we know it does in other muscles of the body that are worked or exercised. Used proporely, it is a wonderful way of building up the strength and capacity of the heart.

Texas Upsets Houston in NCAA Playoff Game

By HOWARD GRAVES
Associated Press Sports Writers

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — Texas' spunky guard, Harry Larrabee, doesn't mind anyone taking his team too lightly.

"We came here to prove something," Larrabee said Saturday night moments after his Longhorns had upset Houston 85-74, in the NCAA's Midwest Regional first round.

"No one gave us a chance against Houston," he said. "We just wanted to win more than they did."

Larrabee led the Longhorns over the Cougars to advance to the Midwest Regional semifinals next Thursday against Kansas State of the Big Eight.

Both teams were unranked in the latest Associated Press college basketball poll.

The first semifinal game will find two ranked clubs-No. 9 Southwestern Louisiana and No. 4 Louisville.

USL whipped past No. 10 Marshall University 112-101 with a display of rebounding strength and some quick shooting by Dwight Lamar and Roy Ebron.

Lamar, who scored 35 points, said he "played a horrible game." However, he said USL's control of the boards was a key factor in stopping the Thundering Herd.

Ebron tugged in 20 rebounds, the best of any individual from the four teams playing on the New Mexico State University campus. He finished with 33 points. Jerry Bisbano had 19.

USL, now 24-3, is playing for the first time in the NCAA university division tournament. Texas' last appearance in the tournament was in 1963.

Texas Coach Leon Black termed his team's victory over Houston, the first time the two had met since 1955. "the biggest win since I've been at Texas."

Houston jumped to a quick 5-0 lead but the Longhorns came to life on the shooting of sophmore Larry Robinson of Hobbs. N.M., and Larrabee's floor week.

Tennessee State Has Roadblocks

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no defending champion around, but Tennessee State has something of its own to defend-its honor as the No. 1 team-as the NCAA College Division Championships begin.

"One thing about this club," Coach Ed Martin said of his Tigers, top-ranked in The Associated Press College Division poll. "I'm the only one who's always scared.

"But, you know, I can never remember wanting to win so badly as I do this year. I mean, you always have that desire to win or you wouldn't be coaching. But I've never felt it so strongly.

"I'm not certain what it is," Martin said, "but maybe it's because I think this may be the club that can go all the way."

But Tennessee State, winner of the South Regional title by virtue of its 79-73 victory over Delta State, has a couple of roadblocks to overcome before going all the way.

The first is its Wednesday quarter-final foe, East Regional champ Southampton, which defeated Hartford, Conn., 86-73 for its title. The Tigers-Colonials game opens the playoffs at 2 p.m., EST.

About two hours later, Missouri-St. Louis, winner of the Midwest title following its 84-75 victory over Lincoln, opposes South Atlantic champion Roanoke, a 67-57 victor against Biscayne, Fla.

Celtics Defeat Knicks

BOSTON AP — "We were ragged in spots, but we still managed to win and that's what counts." said Boston Celtic Coach Tom Heinshon.

It counted, all right, in the National Basketball Association standings after the Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 112-109 Sunday.

The victory gave the Celtics a 5-game Atlantic Division lead over the Knicks and reduced their magic number to three to clinch the division title.

In Sunday's other NBA games, it was: Baltimore 102, Detroit 97; Cincinnati 117, Golden State 106; Atlanta 135, Cleveland 114; Houston 121, Philadelphis 112; Los Angeles 141, Buffalo 102 and Milwaukee 109, Seattle 99.

In the NBA Saturday night Phoenix defeated New York 110-106 and Houston topped Buffalo 121-100.

Heinsohn had high praise for John Havlicek, who led all scorers with 41 points. The total gave him 16,984 NBA career points, putting him ahead of Bob Cousy as Boston's leading all-time scorer and 10th on the list of NBA scorers.

New York coach Red Holzman said the Knicks "overall played well. We faltered in spots and we let them get too many offensive rebounds."

The Knicks were never out of the game and had a chance up to the final buzzer.

Boston had pulled in front 110-105 with 1:16 left, but Walt Frazier popped in two quick baskets to pull New York within one. Frazier failed to convert on a chance to put New York ahead with 45 seconds remaining, but New York was awarded the ball on an inbounding play with three seconds left and the score 110-109.

Frazier lofted a pass toward the basket intended for Phil Jackson but the ball was overthrown and Boston took over.

Medlock Makes Frosh Team

WACO, Tex. AP — Rickey Medlock of the University of Arkansas was the top scorer named to the all-Southwest Conference freshman team announced Saturday.

Medlock, who comes from Cave City, Ark., is 6-feet-3 and averaged 33.4 points during the past season.

Also on the first team were Cederic Joseph of Texas A&M, Russell Bourquein of Southern Methodist, William Johnson of Texas Tech and Kim Moriarty of Rice.

PROSPECTUS: There have been some changes made, after rugged Orioles surprisingly lost World Series in seven games to Pittsburgh after jumping off to a 2-0 lead. Power-hitting Frank Robinson was traded to Los Angeles. And standout general manager Harry Dalton moved to California Angels. There are two outstanding newcomers: infielder Bobby Grich, International League's MVP from Rochester, and Don Baylor, .300-hitting outfielder at Rochester. The latter two are part of infusion of young blood in Orioles. Robinson was 36, while star third baseman Brooks Robinson, starting pitcher Mike Cuellar and outfielder Don Buford are 35. The happy hunting ground over that proverbial hill beckons. But the Orioles remain one of the mighty teams in baseball. No end to their winning ways is yet in sight.

PITCHING—Four 20-game winners. The discussion can end there. Cuellar, Dave McNally, Pat Dobson, Jim Palmer. And yet—there's newcomer Roric Harrison, 15-5 and winningest pitcher in International League. Biggest problem: getting working time for outstanding relievers like Eddie Watt. Oh, Earl Weaver's headaches.

INFIELD—Can Boog Powell return to form after "poor" '71 season? He had bad wrist but still hit 22 homers and had 92 RBIs. Davey Johnson is superior at second, as are Mark Belanger at short and Robinson at third.

OUTFIELD—Buford (.290) is excellent lead-off man, Paul Blair, one of game's best glove men; Marv Rettenmund (.318) and Baylor make up untoppable outfield.

CATCHING—Perhaps weakest position. Elrod Hendricks and Andy Etcheburren are only somewhat better than adequate on a team of stars.

Predicted Finish: First in East.

32 Teams in NAIA Field

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Eau Claire, Wis., Stephen F. Austin of Texas and Kentucky State lead the 32-man field in the NAIA basketball tournament that opened today.

The curtain rose on the double-elimination, week-long tourney with Edinboro, Pa., State, 17-8, meeting Westmont, Calif., 19-8.

St. Thomas Minn., 22-7, took on Tri-State, Ind., 19-10, in the other morning game.

Other first round action today finds Ouachita, Ark., Baptist, 25-4, against Elizabeth City, N.C., State, 17-11; Xavier of Louisiana, 21-4, playing Maryland-Eastern Shore, 20-7; Gardner-Webb, N.C., 22-3, meeting Eastern Montana, 19-5; Eau Claire, 25-1, taking on Bishop of Texas, 23-10; Glenville, W. Va., State, 23-6, playing Missouri Southern, 21-9, and Glassboro Staten N.J., 16-8, against Northeastern Oklahoma State, 22-7.

The tournament determines if Eau Claire, seeded No. 1, or Stephen Austin, No. 2, can break Kentucky State's two-year hold on the title.

Eau Claire topped Kentucky State once this season—a 101-81 decision in the Eau Claire tournament. Center Mike Ratliff is the top scorer in Blugolds history and guard Frank Schade is in the top ten.

Robert Gords and Pete Harris, a pair of 6-foot-7 frontliners, pace the Texans from Nacogdoches, and Gardner-Webb relies on George Adams, who has a 33.8 scoring average.

Kentucky State, while it lost towering Elmore Smith to the pros, returns with Travis "The Machine" Grant a deadly shooter who pours in points at the rate of 39 a clip.

Central Wins State Title

LITTLE ROCK AP — The top-ranked Little Rock Central Tigers have ended the Cinderella bid of El Dorado for the Class AAA-AAAA state high school basketball championship, winning the title themselves Saturday night.

The score was 82-71, but the Tigers won with ease, breezing along at one point late in the game with a 28-point lead, 82-54.

The Wildcats, coming off three upset victories in the tournament, narrowed the margin when the Central regulars were taken out of the game.

The Tigers held only a 19-14 lead at the end of the first quarter, but increased that to 41-27 at the half. It was 64-45 going into the final period.

The game developed into a shooting match between Danny McDaniel and Fred Allen, who are Central teammates. McDaniel scored 31 points and Allen, named the tournament's outstanding player, had 30.

Allen also set a scoring record of 125 points in four games, breaking a 1971 mark of 77 points in three games established by Kent Rust of North Little Rock.

Only one other Tiger, Lawrence Wells with 11 points, was in double figures.

Scoring leaders for El Dorado were Jim Crow with 18, Tommy Cottrell with 12, and Mike Powell and Earl Williams with 11 each.

Central pushed its record to 28-2. El Dorado has a 19-14 mark.

Named to the all-state team were Allen and McDaniel of Central, Crow and Freddy Anderson of El Dorado. Dexter Reed and Raymond Hopes of Little Rock Parkview, Clifton Lewis of Little Rock Hall, Bob Noland of Fayetteville, James White of Hot Springs, Charlie Crigger of Blytheville, and David Bettis of Little Rock McClellan.

Little Rock Hall won the sportsmanship award.

Razorbacks Beat Rhoades

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. AP — The Arkansas Razorback baseball team now sports a 4-0 record, thanks to Bart Rhoades.

Terry Named All-SWC

DALLAS AP — Martin Terry, Arkansas' standout junior guard, was named to the All-Southwest Conference basketball team revealed Saturday.

WISHNICK RETIRES

NEW YORK (AP) — The physical and financial demands of campaigning racing boats on two continents has forced Bill Wishnick to retire from ocean powerboat racing.

Wishnick, however, will still be involved with ocean racing as the offshore vice president of the American Power Boat Association.

He announced his retirement after accepting the Sam Griffith Memorial Trophy which is presented annually by Jas. Hennessy of Cognac, France. Wishnick set a record of 75 world points with five victories and five second place finishes in 1971.

Jerry Tabb got three hits in four trips and John Clarr slammed a sixth-inning grand slam in the Tulsa romp in the first game.

A perfect bases-loaded hunt by Steve West in the first extra inning of nightcap scored the Hurricane's winning run in that one.

The losses were the first for the Razorbacks this season.

All-AIC Team Selected

LITTLE ROCK AP — Six players-including Jim Hamilton and Tommy Patterson of champion Ouachita-were unanimous selections to the All-AIC basketball team.

Ineligible Player Takes Out Marquette

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Marquette has been shut out for the first time this year. It took more than a basketball team to do it.

The Warriors, despite winning a first-round game Saturday, have been thumbed out of the NCAA tournament because of a player ineligibility ruling.

They were dropped from the playoffs Sunday after forward Bob Lackey wouldn't disclaim reports that he has an agreement with agents for a professional contract.

"This is quite a surprise to me and quite a shock, too." said Ohio University Coach Jim Snyder, whose team was humiliated 73-49 by Marquette in the Mideast regionals.

A spokesman for the NCAA said that several players were asked to sign affidavits that they were not working with agents and only Lackey balked.

While Marquette announced that Lackey would sign the affidavit Monday morning and appeal the ruling, the NCAA handed the Warriors' berth to Ohio. The Bobcats will play Kentucky Thursday in a Mideast semifinal game at Dayton, Ohio.

Florida State, 83-81 victors over Eastern Kentucky Saturday, plays Minnesota in the other semifinal match.

Seven other clubs advanced after first-round victories Saturday.

South Carolina defeated Temple 53-51. Villanova blasted East Carolina 85-70 and Penn topped Providence in the East. Southwestern Louisiana walloped Marshall 112-101 and Texas took Houston 85-74 in the Midwest. Weber State routed Hawaii 91-64 and Long Beach turned back Brigham Young 95-90 in overtime in the West.

North Carolina won the Atlantic Coast Conference playoffs by beating Maryland 73-64 and Louisville stopped Memphis State 83-72 in the Missouri Valley Conference to set up some interesting pairings in the semis.

In the East at Morgantown, Va., Thursday, it's North Carolina against South Carolina and Penn vs. Villanova.

The last time they met, South Carolina defeated North Carolina in the ACC playoffs. South Carolina turned independent after last season.

"I still feel like we're in the ACC playoffs," said North Carolina Coach Dean Smith.

Penn has a score to settle with Villanova. The Wildcats handed the Quakers their only defeat last season, a 90-47 humilitation in the NCAA eastern regionals.

Heard Wins Citrus Meet

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

ORLANDO, Fla. AP — The conversation took place on the 18th fairway during Sunday's final round of the $150,000 Florida Citrus Open Golf Tournament.

"When I won at Akron," loose and easy-going Jerry Heard said to Lee Trevino, "that's what I wanted to do-win. It was the first one. This time I want the money."

It was more than simple avarice on the part of the budding star from Visalia, Calif. He was in debt and pressing and admitted the financial problems had bothered his game.

He had a one-stroke lead at that stage, while he and Trevino waited to hit their second shots to the green on the final hole at Rio Pinar Country Club, and Heard used that picture swing to loft his shot to within about nine feet of the flag.

He rolled in the putt for a birdie three, a 69 and a two-stroke victory at 12-under-par 276. And he picked up $30,000 for first place-a check that solved the money worries.

Steal Gives Win to Magnolia Five

LITTLE ROCK AP — Willie Hildreth's thievery in Little Rock's Barton Coliseum Saturday night made Bill Dawson cry happy.

Hildreth stole a pass and returned down the court for a layup with nine seconds left to lift the Magnolia Panthers to a 49-46 victory over Camden Fairview for the championship of the Class AA state tournament.

"I was yelling for Willie to stop." said Dawson. Magnolia's coach. "It's kinda ironic. I didn't realize he had a layup. when I saw the ball go through I started crying. I couldn't help it."

Hildreth's points made the score 48-46. Andrew Pitts established the final margin by sinking a free throw when Fairview was assessed a technical foul for calling time out when the Cardinals had none remaining.

Magnolia, the defending champion, faced an uphill fight in the waining minutes. The score was tied 14-14 at the end of the first quarter. The Panthers moved ahead 28-25 at the half and clung to a 36-35 lead going into the fourth quarter.

But the Cardinals took a 39-37 lead with 6:33 left in the game and then increased the margin to five points on a three-point play by Freeman Rogers, voted the tournament's outstanding player.

Magnolia got back into the game with a full-court press. Willie Dale got the Panthers a 46-46 tie with 56 seconds left. Fairview then went into a stall, hoping for the last shot, but then Hildreth stole the pass intended for Rogers.

Rogers scored 23 points, the only Cardinal in double figures. Dale had 5 for Magnolia, Lathell McKeller had 13 and Mike Crumpler contributed 11.

Named to the all-state team were Dennis Seidenschworz of Stuttgart, Pitts, Dale and Hildreth, Jerry Watts and Otis Young of Warren, Randy Reynolds, Rogers and Billy Kennedy of Fairview, Jack Schulte of Subiaco and Clint Barnett of Altheimer.

Conway won the sportsmanship trophy.

Douglas Is Back on Stand

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Boyd Douglas Jr., former friend of the Rev. Philip Berrigan when the two were federal prisoners, begins his third week on the witness stand today in the courtroom where Berrigan and six other defendants are on trial in an antiwar conspiracy case.

Douglas, who informed on Berrigan while the priest was in the Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary, is due to face two more defense attorneys for the "Harrisburg 7."

Leonard Boudin and the Rev. William Cunningham, a Jesuit priest-lawyer, are scheduled to bring the cross-examination of Douglas to a close.

The government is hoping to convince the jury on the basis of Douglas' testimony that Berrigan and the six others plotted to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and sabotage heating tunnels beneath key government buildings in Washington, D.C.

Douglas was serving three years in the penitentiary for fraud and assault. Berrigan was in prison for destroying draft board records in Catonsville, Md. As a study-release prisoner, Douglas was free to leave daily for classes at nearby Bucknell University.

Douglas has told the court he befriended Berrigan and smuggled letters out of the prison for the Roman Catholic priest. Later, he turned informer.

A defense team headed by former U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark spent last week questioning Douglas. At one point the defense suggested that Douglas had an extortion plot in the works.

Douglas has called defense charges a lie. But Clark said the defense will produce a witness to corroborate these charges.

The defense has also zeroed in on Douglas' finances while he was an informer. It was learned that he received a $1,500 reward for tipping the FBI that a draft board raid was afoot in Rochester, N.Y. According to details of the arrangement revealed at the trial, the FBI outfitted Douglas with a charge account while the agency culled information from him about antiwar activities of the Catholic left.

Mays Would Dam Cossatot River

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Richard Mays of El Dorado, declared candidate for Democratic nomination for 4th District congressman, said Sunday a dam on the Cossatot River might be warranted under certain circumstances.

"I believe God put man on earth to use and look after the natural resources," he said. "I think if the needs of man for water supply, recreation and commercial purposes are such as to justify the damming of the river, then I think the river should be dammed simply because it is a free-flowing stream."

Army Engineers have done several million dollars worth of work toward construction of a Cossatot dam at Gillhan, but some conservations object while contending a dam would damage the ecology of the area.

Another candidate, Richard Arnold of Texarkana, had said Saturday. "Some of the things the Lord has created should remain the same, and the Cossatot River is one of them."

On other issues, Mays said that.

—Busing to achieve a racial balance was "wasteful" and should be prevented by legislation barring federal courts from utilizing it as a tool of integration. He said he did not think a constitutional amendment was the best way to bar busing because "things like that" should not be in the Constitution.

—He would not support conditional amnesty for draft evaders. He said, though, that the United States made a mistake in becoming involved in the Vietnam war and should extricate itself from the conflict "with all due speed."

—President Nixon's wage and price control program is "a general failure" because boards administering the program have not followed congressional guidelines.

Train Wreck Kills 4

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — Rescuers are searching for a fourth man who is believed to have died in the burning wreckage of two Penn Central freight trains which collided head on south of this central Pennsylvania town.

Forty-five cars derailed Sunday morning in the nearby community of Herndon, most of them piling up on top of each other in a space as long as three boxcars.

Penn Central officials said a 100-car coal train, eastbound from Williamsport, Pa., failed to wait on a siding until the westbound freight passed.

Marlin Bobb, who lives near a crossing about a quarter mile from the scene, said he saw the coal train before the crash and the engine was in flames.

The flames "were lapping up around the sides of the engine," Bobb said.

R.A. Herman, district superintendent for the railroad, said it might be impossible to determine why the coal train did not remain on the siding.

But some old time railroad workers theorized that the train caught fire, the brakes failed, and the engine headed out of the siding while the crew members fought the blaze mindless of the train's direction.

Herman said the coal train was traveling at 36 miles per hour, the freight at 30 m.p.h.

Whitten to Run Against Bryant

LITTLE ROCK AP — Vernon Whitten of Bearden, unsuccessful candidate for gubernatorial nomination in 1962, said Sunday he would run for the Democratic secretary of state nomination this year.

Whitten, a businessman, is the second announced candidate for the job held by Kelly Bryant of Hope, who has not revealed whether he will run for a sixth term.

John L. Riggs of North Little Rock resigned Friday as an administrative aide to Bryant and announced that he would run for his former boss' job.

Whitten said in his announcement that the office, besides keeping records and managing the Capitol buildings and grounds, has been a "guardian of the public trust in the handling of printing bids and corporate filings, a source of many areas of courteous service to citizens of this state, and a public relations office to visitors to the state Capitol from other areas."

Whitten said the way the office has been conducted in recent years "makes it increasingly evident that there needs to be a strenuous effort to return this office to its traditional position."

A native of Bodcaw in Nevada County, Whitten attended Cumberland University Law School. He has been a teacher, a state policeman and, for the last 10 years, a dealer in land and oil properties in Arkansas.

He has five children, all grown.

Jade: Mystery Stone of Heaven

At a time when things oriental are taking precedence over things occidental, an article in the New York Times Feb. 6 suggests changing diamonds for jade, indicating that someone has finally discovered the true value of the "stone of heaven."

On March 20-21 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City, Schulman Coin & Mint, Inc., will auction off probably the largest collection of oriental jade objets d'art ever assembled under one roof.

This fabulous collection of Chinese antique jade consists of three parts: I. the Cann collection, based on types rather than dynasties: II. the Haynes collection, based on dynasties, and III. the Gibbs collection, also based on dynasties. Each piece is described in Schulman's auction catalog of Chinese antique jade. Bidding by mail is permitted.

Jade to the average occidental is a color rather than a mineral but it does in fact come in countless colors and shades, with green being no more rare nor common than many others. Blue is unquestionably the most unique, but the most difficult to find are pieces of "mutton fat" texture with tiny vermillion spots, and pieces of bright spinach green flecked with shining points of gold.

10 Persons Killed on State Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ten persons died in traffic accidents on Arkansas highways over the weekend.

Three were killed Sunday, including two in one accident.

State Police said John Michael Flowers and Jerry McKee Burnette, both 19 and both of Pine Bluff, died when a car driven by Flowers struck a bridge guard rail on U.S. 65 about 12 miles south of Little Rock.

Charles Lee Barron, 40, of Route 1, Yellville, was killed Sunday morning when his motorcycle left Arkansas 7 north of the Boone County community of Bergman. State Police said the motorcycle traveled 185 feet after leaving the highway, went through a fence and then hit a bridge wall.

Two persons were killed Saturday night in a two-car accident about seven miles northwest of Benton. The victims were Delmer L. Miller, 25, and Paul Sutton, 9, both of near Benton.

Troopers said a car driven by Miller collided head-on at the crest of a hill with an auto driven by Mrs. Neva Sutton, mother of the Sutton boy.

Troopers said the mother and two other Sutton children, Janet, 11, and Eric, 10, were injured.

A two-vehicle accident Saturday four miles north of Bismarck on Arkansas 7 in Hot Spring County killed Lynn Loudermilk, 19, of Arkadelphia.

Police said she was a passenger in a pickup truck driven by Gabe P. Moorman, 21, of Arkadelphia that was involved in a head-on collision with a car driven by Ronald Pruitt, 30, of Duncan, Okla. Pruitt and Moorman were hospitalized.

The Associated Press count of weekend traffic fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Position on School Busing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon worked on a position statement on school busing during a long weekend at Camp David in Maryland.

Aides said that the President was to reach his decision on the issue of busing public school pupils to achieve integration. Nixon has promised to make a statement on the subject after Florida's presidential primary Tuesday.

The chief executive was joined at the mountaintop retreat by his wife and his daughters, Julie and Tricia, and their husbands.

Wants 11 Black Delegates

LITTLE ROCK AP — The Voter Education Project of Atlanta, Ga., has reported that 11 of Arkansas' 27 Democratic National Convention delegates should be black.

The national party guidelines say that five should be black.

The report, prepared for the nonprofit organization by Charles Rooks, also said Republicans should not ignore blacks because of the presumption that they would vote Democratic.

Rooks said that in 1968, for example, 95 per cent of the blacks who voted in Arkansas cast ballots for Winthrop Rockefeller, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, while 92 per cent supported Hubert Humphery, the Democratic presidential nominee that year.

Jaycees to Fight Issue

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The president of the Rochester, N.Y., chapter of the U.S. Jaycees say he will fight a recommendation that the chapter be stripped of its charter, an action which followed the admittance of four women as members.

The Jaycees' executive committee upheld on Sunday suspension of the chapter ordered by Jaycees president Richard Au and also recommended that the Jaycees' board of directors revoke the Rochester charter.

Au said admittance of the four women to the men-only organization was not at issue, but rather the Rochester chapter's action in changing its membership requirement wording from "a young men's organization" to a "young persons' organization."

This, the executive committee said, was a violation of national by-laws.

President James Bruen of the Rochester chapter said he will carry the fight to the board of directors meeting in Atlanta in June, and if the revocation recommendation is upheld the Rochester group would be reorganized under a different name.

Black Convention Creates New Political Movement

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

GARY, Ind. (AP) — The first National Black Political Convention has concluded an at times angry, at times wildly enthusiastic, meeting. Left as its most visible accomplishment was the creation of a new black political movement.

Whether "The National Assembly," as the new movement was tentatively called, might eventually evolve into a third political party no one could say. But great things were predicted for its future.

"All of these seeds have begun to come together and germinate into one flower," said Chicago's Rev. Jesse Jackson, comparing the new movement to independent black state political movements in South Carolina, Mississippi and Alabama.

"If we do nothing else today," Jackson said, "we will have made a revolutionary step toward a black political nation in this country and in the world."

A combination of unexpectedly hot debates and long, confusing parliamentary wrangles on the convention floor left one of the three-day assembly's main tasks unfinished at the closing session Sunday night—adoption of resolutions.

A compromise motion from New York brought together in the convention's interim report all resolutions proposed by state delegations and left the final decisions on policy to a steering committee which will meet later.

The compromise motion was offered and adopted after part of the 254-man Michigan delegation had walked out and part of the Illinois group threatened to do the same.

But it put the convention on record as tentatively adopting both sides of several controversial issues, including for and against integrated schools.

It also put the convention against the endorsement of any political candidate for president, but for the presidential bid of Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D—N.Y.

"People are tired now," said Rep. Charles Diggs of Michigan. "We are forgetting what we already agreed to ... No matter how they look today, the final agenda coming up May 19 will not be the same documents."

He said an earlier vote gave a steering committee of 50 state delegation chairmen plus a few others the authority to rewrite and resolve all conflicts in the list of final resolutions, to be released on the birthday of the late Malcolm X, May 19, and to "ratify that document in the name of the convention."

Another document, a National Black Agenda calling for a "permanent political movement that addresses itself to basic control and reshaping of American institutions" also was adopted tentatively.

"The unifying objective of this political movement must be the empowerment of the black community, not simply its representatives," the agenda said. "It must offer basic alternatives to all the existing American political, economic and cultural systems."

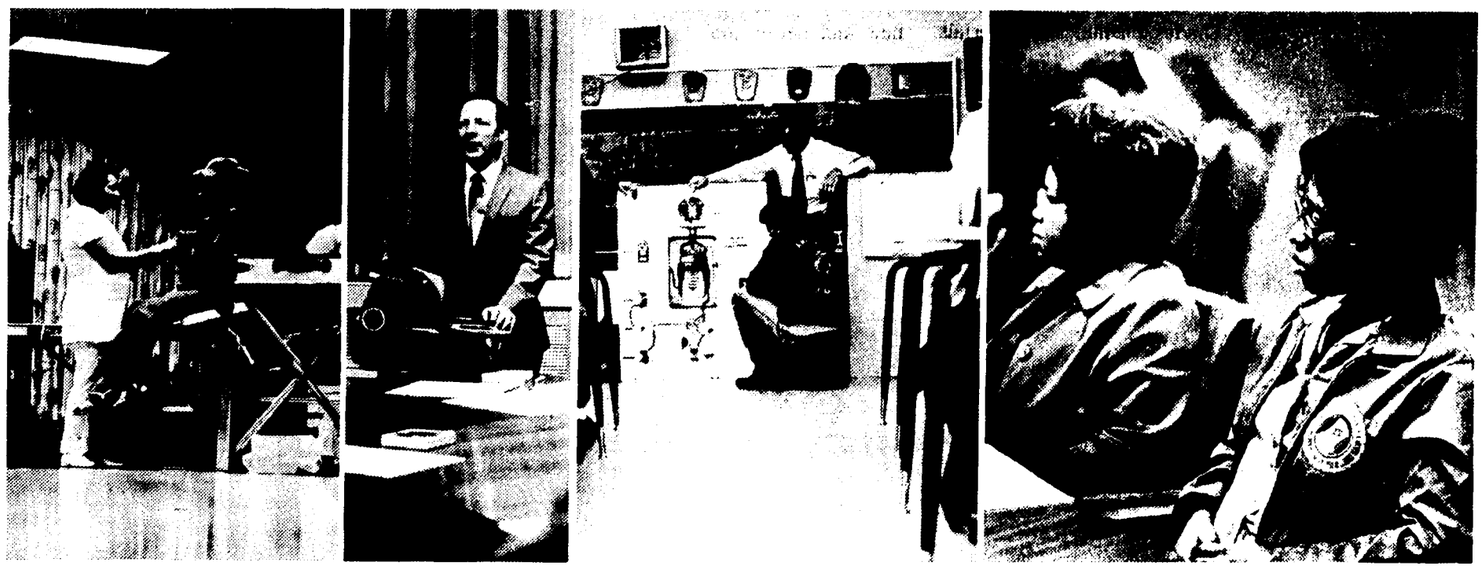

The agenda's list of basic recommendations included:

—Black representation in both the Senate and House in ratio to the 15 per cent black population of the nation, with the same principle applied to state and local governments.

—Reparations to blacks in the form of real estate and cash.

—The formation of black unions as an alternative to labor organizations which practice racial discrimination.

We're turned on to community service.

That's why they're involved in community service projects throughout our service territory. Civic organizations, Little League, Scouting, Future Farmers of America, 4-H Clubs—these are just a few of the areas where AP&L people are working.

As a corporate citizen, the Company itself plays a vital role in community life. For instance, in numerous cities, our Reddy Kilowatt Rooms serve as civic centers for educational, charitable and cultural activity.

At AP&L, service means more than electricity . . . it means a continuing commitment to make Arkansas a better place to live, to work and to grow.

Communists Forces in Heavy Weekend Raids

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces during the weekend made their largest number of attacks across South Vietnam in three weeks, while in eastern Cambodia a new 5,000-man South Vietnamese drive made its first significant contact with the enemy.

The South Vietnamese command reported 33 enemy attacks in Vietnam, almost half of them by rockets and mortars, between 6 a.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today. More than half a dozen ground engagements were reported.

Incomplete reports said 19 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 89 wounded. The Saigon command claimed 137 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed.

The South Vietnamese reported a four-hour fight in eastern Cambodia 75 miles northwest of Saigon, where government troops launched a new drive last Friday. Headquarters reported 11 enemy troops and two government soldiers killed and 16 South Vietnamese wounded.

The South Vietnamese force also captured five Cambodian Communist guerrillas hiding inside a bunker near a forward command post seven miles northwest of Kompong Trach. One of the prisoners said his mission was to guide North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops. He said about 200 of these had fled when they observed South Vietnamese helicopters ferrying in materials to a new fire base.

The U.S. Command announced that American troops strength in South Vietnam dropped 5,100 men last week to 114,500. It was the biggest weekly cut since Jan. 21-27, when 7,200 men were withdrawn.

In northern Laos, North Vietnamese forces captured Sam Thong base and tightened their siege on Long Cheng, six miles to the southeast, sources in Vientiane said.

Military sources said highly accurate enemy artillery had closed the airstrip at Long Cheng base again and had forced evacuation of Thai and Laotian forces over the weekend from positions east of Sam Thong, six miles northwest of Long Cheng.

In southern Laos, North Vietnamese troops were reported to have driven within 13 miles of Pakse, while Laotian units reoccupied the village of Keng Nhao, 20 miles northeast of Pakse, and captured three trucks containing ammunition.

Singer Out of Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Pearl Bailey has been discharged from a hospital where she underwent coronary care during her stay of nearly a week.

Hospital officials announced over the weekend that Miss Bailey, 53, was released Friday and was resting at home. She and her husband, musician Louis Bellson, live in suburban Northridge.

Arnold in Formal Announcement

PINE BLUFF, Ark. AP — Richard Arnold of Texarkana has formally entered the race for Congress in the 4th District, saying that he had learned much from his defeat in his first bid for the office in 1966.

"Since that campaign, I have consciously and deliberately prepared myself to seek the same office again, believing that, in the long run, I can offer the people the voice in government they want and need." Arnold said Saturday at a Pine Bluff news conference announcing his candidacy.

Arnold, 35, a lawyer, becomes the fourth announced Democratic candidate for the congressional position. The others are Atty. Gen. Ray Thornton, Richard Mays of El Dorado and Jack Coleman of McGehee.

The incumbent, Rep. David Pryor, is running for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate.

Pryor first won the office in 1966 after defeating Arnold in the Democratic runoff.

Arnold announced that if he is elected he will set up a special telephone service so that constituents can call him in Washington toll free to discuss problems.

The 1973 USGA Women's Amateur golf championship will be held at Montclair, N.J.

PAVING THE WAY

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A controversial expressway here, stalled in the courts for years, found its way into a church sermon.

Pastor Roy Osborne told the congregation of Sunset Ridge Church of Christ about an automobile he had noticed.

"On one end of its back bumper, it carried a sticker announcing, 'Jesus is coming soon,'" Osborne related.

"On the other end — and I'm sure there must have been some significance — was the sticker, 'complete the North Expressway now.'"

Hearing in Custody Case

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A Superior Court hearing on a custody suit involving Christian Brando, 13, son of actor Marlon Brando, was to resume today. Meanwhile, there were reports the missing youth had re-entered the United States from Mexico.

Calexico authorities said Saturday that Christian, whose custody is now shared by Brando and his ex-wife, actress Anna Kashfi, crossed the border Friday, but an announcement was withheld because the record "was locked in the safe." They gave no details.

Miss Kashfi reported her son missing last week, telling Calexico authorities that he failed to show up in the border city as scheduled after an excursion in Baja California.

The hearing is on the 47-year-old actor's petition to be granted sole custody of his son. Brando and Miss Kashfi, 37, were divorced in 1959.

Girl Scout Cookie Drive Starts 17th

The new large family-size boxes of Girl Scout cookies will arrive in Hope March 17 for distribution. Anyone who failed to place an order will still be given the opportunity to buy two varieties, butter-flavored shorties and peanut butter, during the direct sale March 17-25. The cookies cost $1.00 per box.

The main purpose of the cookie sale is to earn money to build a swimming pool at Camp High Point, the resident camp near Mena, Arkansas. In addition, trrops earn a bonus on every box sold. Individual Girl Scouts and troops will compete for other incentive awards. Every girl selling 75 boxes or over receives a certificate and an invitation to a special awards event. Anyone selling over 325 boxes receives a complete campership to High Point and a silver charm. For selling 250-325 boxes, a girl receives half the camp fee; for 175-250 boxes $10.00 toward the fee; for 100-175 she receives $5.00 toward the camp fee.

The individual salesman selling the highest number of boxes has her name engraved on the traditional cookie cup. The troop selling the most boxes will receive a tent, and the second top troop award will be a flag of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

The 1972 cookie committee for the council consists of Mrs. Bobby R. Revels, chairman; Mrs. Jerry Day, orders and deliveries; Mrs. Freddie Cigainero, awards; and Mrs. Charles Firmin, Jr., materials.

PERSONAL FINANCE

By CARLTON SMITH

Fred W. had a wicked little smile on his face when he walked into the boss' office. He had accumulated a craw full of grievances over the past few years, and now he was going to let "J.B." have it with both barrels—for he carried his resignation in his hand. He'd found a new and better job.

One of life's sweeter moments coming up? "No," says an expert on executive behavior. It could be one of life's big mistakes for Fred.

Telling off the boss when you leave a job "is one of the surest ways for an individual's record to be blemished. It can haunt him for the rest of his career," says James A. Skidmore Jr., president of Handy Associates, one of the leading "head hunter" or executive search firms.

Many departing employes feel their new job "places them in a position of immunity," says Skidmore — but if they expect to keep moving up in their career, they're far from immune. Next time Fred has an opportunity to move up, he'll find himself called on to give "J.B." and other former superiors or associates as references.

Make the parting as smooth as possible, the Handy firm counsels clients, and offers these tips on "how to get ahead by quitting your job gracefully".

- Present your resignation properly. As soon as your new job's confirmed, give the news directly to your immediate superior. Don't go over his head, and don't let him hear the news from someone else.
- Do whatever is appropriate to assure that you have a capable successor. Influence his selection, if you're in a position to, or make suggestions and recommendations about filling your job. How well your job continues to be done after your departure may well determine your reputation in future years.
- Help to work out an orderly transition of duties. Take the time, and make the effort, to train or break in your successor.
- Resist the temptation to tell everybody how much greater it is where you're going. No employer is likely to look kindly upon talk that says, in effect, how much his organization suffers by comparison. He may feel — with reason—that such talk causes jealousy and unrest.
- Depart gracefully: don't just disappear. Whatever the circumstances of your leaving a job, leave it with style. Make it a point to thank everyone who worked with you or was helpful in your job, and make the rounds to say goodby personally.

Britain, China to Exchange Envoys

TOKYO (AP) — China and Britain have agreed to exchange ambassadors, a joint communique broadcast by Peking announced today.

The communique ended a 22-year tussle between Peking and London over the problem of Taiwan, seat of the Nationalist Chinese government. It reflected a reversal of Britain's original stand that the status of Taiwan remained to be internationally determined.

Britain and China have been in a diplomatic relationship since 1950 but each is represented in the other's capital by a charge d'affaires. The problem of Taiwan was the main cause of this.

The joint communique said the two governments decided to raise the level of their diplomatic representatives from charge d'affaires to ambassadors as of today.

The communique said: "The government of the United Kingdom, acknowledging the position of the Chinese government that Taiwan is a province of the People's Republic of China, has decided to remove their official representation from Taiwan on March 13, 1972."

The communique also said: "The government of the United Kingdom recognize the government of the People's Republic of China as the sole legal government of China."

The three-paragraph statement was signed by China's deputy foreign minister, Chiao Kuanhua and Charge d'Affaires J. M. Addis of Britain.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Horsepower is a mechanical representation equivalent to the power required to lift a weight of 33,000 pounds one foot in one minute or 550 pounds one foot in one second, The World Almanac notes. The watt is a unit expressing electrical power—746 watts are equal to one horsepower.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fairly Free Private Enterprise

Curbside flower vendors became so numerous in a certain community that the regular florists began to complain about the competition. Finally, the city council passed a tough licensing law aimed at knocking the street vendors out of business.

But when the new law was tested in court, it was held null and void. The court said the city simply had no power to regulate a business as harmless as selling flowers.

Private enterprise, while not wholly free, still has considerable vitality. A city's "police power" does not include blanket authority over all kinds of business activities, just because they happen to be within the city limits.

On the other hand, a city may indeed impose restraints on a business that has a real potential for harm.

Consider the case of a man who started a telephone answering service. According to a city ordinance, he and his employees were supposed to submit to photographing and fingerprinting. Challenging the ordinance, the man said it was unfair to "single us out."

But a court saw two ways in which a telephone answering service could be harmful:

1) by the misuse of confidential information about subscribers; and
2) by the encouragement of immoral activities.

Upholding the city's requirements, the court said:

"There is a reasonable basis for distinguishing this type of business from others that are not regulated."

Another ordinance, covering private detectives, went still further. Under its terms, they had to put up a special bond and get a character clearance from the police department.

But again, a court decided there were enough possibilities for mischief in this line of work to justify the city in taking precautions. As one judge put it:

"A statute to promote the public safety is valid, although it may interfere with individual freedom. Individual freedom must yield to the public good."
